

About us

At AniCura Aarhus Animal Hospital, one of Denmark's leading small animal veterinary hospitals, we're excited to welcome an additional Ophthalmologist to our team. With specialties including Ophthalmology, Oncology, Surgery, Dermatology, Cardiology, Internal medicine, Anesthesia, and rehabilitation, we're dedicated to providing exceptional care to our referral and emergency patients at any time of the day or night. As we expand to accommodate the growing demand for our services, we're eagerly awaiting the launch of our expanded brand-new facilities in early 2024.

Our hospital is located in the stunning Aarhus region, Denmark's second-largest city. Here, you'll enjoy a blend of captivating attractions, natural beauty, and cultural treasures—all conveniently accessible. We have universities, nearby airports, and the city is growing rapidly. Our hospital's family-like atmosphere is fostered by a close-knit team of caring veterinarians, nurses, and technicians who prioritize both patient care and work-life balance.

Your Role and Qualifications

Are you an experienced Ophthalmologist seeking a fulfilling role? Join our team of skilled veterinary professionals and contribute to the medical and surgical treatment of our diverse ophthalmic patients. Whether you're a diplomate, hold a certificate, an Eye Scheme Examiner, possess relevant qualifications, or bring unique expertise, we're eager to hear from you. Strong communication skills and a proactive approach are essential as you collaborate to strengthen and advance our esteemed ophthalmology department. Knowledge of the Danish language is not required; however, we encourage willingness to acquire basic Danish language skills.
